INVITATION TO PAY ADDITIONAL FEES

International application No.

PCT/US 01/46833

This International Searching Authority found multiple (groups of) inventions in this international application, as follows:

Invention 1: Claims: 1-5 partially

Subject 1: Nucleic acid with SEQ ID NO 1 and its use

Inventions 2-252: Claims 1-11 partially (claims 6-11 only applicable for subjects 85, 251 and 252)

Subjects 2-252: Nucleic acid with SEQ ID NO's 2-251, 254 respectively, and their use

Infection and Immunity 66(1998)4411 including the GenBank Accession no AF081283-AF081286 referred to in this publication discloses many nucleotide sequences from E. coli strain CFT073 not present in E. coli K12 and associated with the CFT073 virulence.

In the light of this prior art the problem presented in the present application is to provide further such sequences.

The solutions to this problem are the provision of polynucleotide sequences SEQ ID NO 1-251 and 254.

The ISA considers that due to the fact that E. coli CFT073 virulence specific nucleotide sequences already exist and due to the fact that the claimed sequences are essentially different there is no technical relationship between the different claimed sequences. As no other technical feature can be distinguished which, in the light of the prior art, can be regarded as special technical feature, the ISA is of the opinion that there is no single inventive concept underlying the plurality of the claimed inventions in the present application. Consequently there is lack of unity within the sense of Rule 13.1 PCT.
